MYSTIC Fire was discovered about three-thirty Vednesday morning in the Capt. Jack Williams house, on Gravel street occu-pled by the Maynard family. At started on the second floor in the chimney, runnings up from the kitchen and was daused by a defective pipe which had become overheated. The fire companies responded promptly and did valuati service in preventing the flames from breaking through the roof. Due to the onfined to the space surrounding the himney and, although the woodwork ground the chimney, the damage was confined to a comparatively small area. It was indeed fortunate that the fire companies were able to get the fire under control, since with the freezing temper-ature that prevailed and the strong wind blowing it would have caused much more roof. It was agreed in all quarters Wedproud of its volunteer fire department. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Lord have reirned from a trip to Hartford.

if all convicts could effect their co-cape from prison with the desterior shown by Douglas Mac Lean in Al ert in the penetentiaries Wha wardens and guards.

Doug's escape from fall is but end of the many humorous incidents the cour in "The Julibird," a new Partnount picture produced by Taoma 4. Ince, which will be shown at the Davis theatre Priday and Saturary when you see this photopiar, you must not reveal the secret you know.

Prison visitors, a collar and shirt lying in easy access on an office desir, and a cuit of civilian cicines in the warden's closet, are the accessories that aided Dong's escape. Walle the that nided Dong a scenepe. While the guard is showing a crowd of visitors through the prison Doug, left alone in the worden's office where he is a trusty, sneaches the celler and shirt, adjourns to the closet, does his "civies," and, remains there until the return of the visitors. As they per the closet door he steps into their midst and exits with them through the prison gates. How he gets had into jail again is another story.

Thomas H. Ince personally supervised the picture, which was directed by Lloyd Ingraham from a story by Julien Josephann. A capable supporting cast is housed by Doris May.

The thirteenth episcale of Jack Dempsey's great serial will be the next feature. This thrilling picture is nearing its close and you will not that aided Dong's escape. I guard is showing a crowd tors through the prison D picture tells a sweet, noble love steey filled with the glamour of high idventure and the trush of breathers action. Robert McKam, Margaerie

De La Motte, Roy Stewart, Rafabya Williams, Virginia Caldwell, Freedick Starr, Charles B. Murphy and mumber of other foremost screen artists of the screen interpret the margcharacters with a life and virility flasmakes them live and breathe before the eyes of the spectator.

The dramatic ability of the direct Jack Conway as well as the estimate art of the players make the U.
Trail a powerful construction had makes the spectator thrill and has a and cry as he sits breathiess und the beautiful climax ends suspende.

"The U. P. Trail" has about it the great, human qualities of love and sinpreme secrifice and the characters are all played with such virility that there is no such thing as a neutral feeling toward them; each is loved of mates strongly as the case may be.
